America. (February 2004)

A playful yet heartfelt list of childish treats, treasures and earthly wonders to thank the Creator for. A glorious array of Allah's never-ending bounties that will evoke a child's feeling of gratitude for everything God, Allah in Arabic, has given - from faith and knowledge, to family and health, from animals and nature, to food and life itself. Fittingly illustrated with busy, colorful, collage illustrations. "Allah is Most Kind! Have you looked around? His blessings you'll find! Up in the sky Or on the Earth's floor Let's find out the things To Thank Allah for . . . "

21st century. Having spent every summer in the area from 1967 through 1977 at two sleepaway camps, he noticed that so much of the landscape had not changed much when he moved full time to Bethel, NY in 2006. The book focuses on landscapes but also includes some historic buildings, wildlife and even some residents at public gatherings. Klein, who owns Rich Klein New York Photography, also co-authored Massapequa: A Pictorial History Through The Eyes of Baby Boomers, published in 2014.
